

Fr. Chris Amanze

Nigeria

Elele and Ogoni land and other areas.

We met Fr. Chris when he came to preach a mission for the Spiritans , 2017 to raise money for his parishes and community in Nigeria. I only had a brief time to speak to him after Mass but we were able to establish what way we could help. This project has grown and developed and again we send all the catechetical material that he would like as well as books for his people mostly smaller ones as he is hoping to build up a library... We also have been trying to support a seminary there and the first set of books was divided between the two places. We have also sent some funds for fees to maintain the students but as yet we have not been able to support them in a consistent way. This saddens us. However, we now send much needed books by surface mail which has made it possible for us to continue. We have also received books to send. We have of course also got book stalls in local churches as part our evangelistic outreach and so are able to select and distribute books according to need and usefulness.

We are to send, donated to us, computers for the school. Sometimes we are asked to help on a one off basis.

As in all our projects we receive wonderful letters of gratitude. There is growing persecution in Nigeria and so the thoughts and prayer as well as generosity help our brothers and sisters greatly.
